

Ascent Emergency Room Now Providing Dental Emergency in Houston

Houston, Texas May 29, 2023 (Issuewire.com) - Without proper intervention in the shortest time possible, dental emergencies can quickly evolve into serious conditions, including risk for infection, excessive bleeding, and excruciating pain. Ascent Emergency Room can help patients who sustain injuries that result in dental fractures, breaks, and other emergencies like tooth abscesses and toothaches. Although we don't perform dental procedures, our emergency room in Houston helps provide relief and restore comfort, then arrange for specialized dental treatment or hospital care.

Ascent Emergency Room understands nothing can be as exasperating as having an abscessed tooth, toothache, or tooth infection late at night when your dentist is closed. It can even be worse if a dental emergency happens on weekends or holidays when most dental offices are closed.

What Kind of Help We Provide in Dental Emergencies

If someone abruptly begins to have gum bleeding, severe infection accompanied by pain, knocked-out teeth, a bad chipping of a tooth, or severe toothache, you can bring them to our emergency room for urgent care. We handle dental emergencies by:

Providing analgesics to help soothe the discomfort, such as oral painkiller tablets, IV injections, or intramuscular injections.

Making efforts to halt any bleeding, if any, and where intense blood loss has occurred, we arrange for immediate transfusions.

Any infection present is treated using antibiotics

Once we stabilize a patient, we refer them to a dentist for specialized dental treatment and procedures such as extractions and root canal therapy.

Visit Ascent Emergency Room when you face a dental emergency. Our ER staff will ensure you get stabilized, any bleeding is controlled, and dental fractures are treated. If bacterial infections are present, our emergency room near you administers antibiotics and arranges to have you transferred to a hospital or dentist if necessary.
