London, United Kingdom May 30, 2023 (Issuewire.com) - Distribution of a cover song is easy with the New Music Top service.

When it comes to music, cover songs are loved by many listeners. But did you know that the distribution of covers is different from the distribution of original music? Cover versions require special licenses, permits, and royalties to be paid to the songwriter and/or publisher.

This is where the distribution of cover versions begins. As an artist, you want your cover song to get as much exposure as your original music. Cover distribution services can help you with this by taking care of all legal issues related to covers of other people's songs.

Use the New Music Top service to distribute your cover version of a popular song.

With cover distribution services, you don't have to worry about the legal hassles of obtaining licenses and permits. New Music Top will take care of all the necessary paperwork, allowing you to easily release a cover of a song without any legal hassle.

In addition to complying with the law, cover song distribution services also help you reach a wider audience. New Music Top distributes your cover to various streaming platforms (over 200+) and online music stores, making your music more popular. This means your cover will be available to listeners looking for popular songs from their favorite artists.

All in all, cover distribution services allow you to expand your music catalog and reach a wider audience with your cover songs. So, if you want to release a cover song, make sure you choose a reliable cover distribution service to ensure that your music is distributed legally and reaches a wider audience.
