Clifton, New Jersey May 3, 2023 (Issuewire.com) - Ecuadorian Rainforest, a leading supplier of natural ingredients for the food, beverage, and supplement industries, is proud to announce its May Ingredients Specials. This month's featured ingredients are Camu Camu Powder, Gigartina Powder, Chondracanthus Powder, Noni Fruit Powder, and many more.

Camu Camu Powder is a superfood powder that has been used for centuries by the Amazonian tribes. It is rich in vitamin C, antioxidants, and flavonoids. Camu Camu Powder has a tart flavor and can be used in various applications such as beverages, smoothies, and desserts.

Gigartina Powder is a type of seaweed that has been used for centuries in traditional Chinese medicine. It is rich in carrageenan, which is a natural thickener and stabilizer. Gigartina Powder has a mild flavor and can be used in various applications such as dairy products, beverages, and desserts.

Chondracanthus Powder is used in cosmetics, personal care products, and pharmaceuticals for its thickening and gelling properties. It is also used in food products such as dairy, meat, and bakery items as a natural stabilizer and thickener.

Noni Fruit Powder is a tropical fruit powder that has been used for centuries in Polynesian traditional medicine. It is rich in antioxidants, flavonoids, and other beneficial compounds. Noni Fruit Powder has a slightly bitter flavor and can be used in various applications such as beverages, smoothies, and desserts.

"We are excited to offer these unique and high-quality ingredients to our customers," said Steve Siegel, Vice President of Ecuadorian Rainforest. "Our May Ingredients Specials provide an opportunity for our customers to try new and innovative ingredients that can add value to their products."
