

Glissando Distro Has Royalty Splits

Easily split the mechanical rights royalties between all featured artist and producers

Dover, Delaware May 23, 2023 (issuewire.com) - Glissando Distro, a leading distributor of independent music, has announced new royalty split arrangements for artist and labels on its platform. The new royalty splits aim to provide a fair and transparent distribution of revenue earned from the sale and use of music on the platform.

“We believe that artist and labels deserve to be fairly compensated for their hard work and creativity.

Our new royalty splits are designed to support independent musicians by providing them with e transparent and equitable distribution of revenue earned from their music>” – Glissando Distro, CEO.

The new royalty split arrangements are part of Glissando Distro’s ongoing commitment to supporting independent musicians and labels. The company offers a range of services to help artist and labels distribute their music to a wider audience, including digital distribution, marketing and campaigning.

Glissando Distro’s new royalty split arrangements are now in effect for all artist and labels on its platform. For more information, visit the Glissando Distro website.
