GeoVet offers a full range of diagnostic, medical, surgical, and preventative services tailored to the unique needs of each animal species.

From wellness exams to micro-chipping and diagnostic and imaging to lab tests, surgery, and same-day visits, the business focuses on providing premium pet care by an experienced professional and passionate team.

A founding member of GeoVet, Terrance Bell, is an animal lover so it was only a matter of time before he would open a business to cater to our fuzzy friends. And when a special friend introduced him to the world of veterinary medicine, it changed his life forever.

"I have developed a stronger love and passion for animals through the eyes of a veterinarian, which has given me a deeper understanding and knowledge of an animal's life," states Bell. "It made me remember God creates all living creatures and that we have a duty to love and nurture animals just as we do people."

Equipped with the latest technology and staffed by trained professionals who specialize in treating a wide variety of exotic animals, from birds and reptiles to small mammals and primates, GeoVet focuses on the well-being of pets and strives to meet their physical and emotional needs.
