Born on August 1, 1989, Jarvis Parrish professionally known as J. A. Bilderberg is a man of many talents. He is a celebrated American rapper, singer, songwriter, engineer, and record producer. His interest in music and passion for it started very early for the artist, as he was a percussionist in elementary school. After graduating with a scholarship from Florida A&M UNIVERSITY in Tallahassee Florida, the artist began his professional music career. He started on his journey as just a "beat maker" in Atlanta, Georgia where he worked with his first record label Grown Money Entertainment (GME). Then he joined Slaughterhouse Records as an artist where he started to mark his name in the industry, working his way up to become the VP of the same label.

Now with new music coming up, the artist is ready to deliver yet another quality musical piece and surprise the industry. Get to know more at: <https://jabilderberg.com/>.
