

Small Business Owners; Who Want More Business Can Use a Little Known, Legal, Simple Free Guerrilla Marketing Trick!

Los Angeles, California May 9, 2023 (Issuewire.com) - Small business owners, are being re-introduced to a proven even free yet seldom correctly used approach for attracting more customers. Plus, it's completely legal, simple, and at no cost.

Marketing guru and publicity consultant Bruce Brown have re-discovered the untapped potential of free online business directories for driving new business to both brick-and-mortar and online businesses.

Brown whose background includes over 30 years as a licensed private investigator, has uncovered and now shares little-known legal tricks and secrets that's helped businesses grow. Working with his colleague and digital marketing expert Jesse Chapman, Brown is offering a valuable report that teaches small business owners how to leverage free online business directories to create their own "Business Generating Goldmine."

"Most business owners have little if any idea how to make the freest Business Directories work for them. Most people know about Yelp.com® but there are many. And it is so easy to use the others too if you just follow these simple secrets..." explained Brown.

Whether you have an online or offline business, this free report compiled by Brown and Chapman will guide you through some of the best free business directories to sign up for, and the little-known tricks to correctly posting your business. Virtually ensuring maximum exposure help attract the hungriest customers.

Be sure to take advantage of this opportunity to revolutionize your marketing strategy and attract more business, all by harnessing the power of free online business directories...just like the paid professionals do.
