New York City, New York Jun 23, 2023 (Issuewire.com) - An exceptional orthopedic surgeon, Dr. Flood sees patients at Caduceus Medical Group in Yorba Linda, California. Prior to joining Caduceus, he had a successful private practice in San Diego and served as an academic practitioner at the University of Missouri, where he made significant contributions to the field of orthopedic surgery.

Educated in the United States, he received his medical degree from the prestigious University of Kansas Medical School, graduating first in his class. He then pursued further training with an internship at UCSD, followed by a residency in orthopedic surgery at the University of Kansas. To refine his skills and specialize in knee and sports medicine, he completed a fellowship in San Diego.

With an unwavering commitment to his specialty, the doctor is board-certified in orthopedic surgery and sports medicine by the American Board of Orthopedic Surgery (ABOS). The ABOS is an organization with the goal of establishing educational and professional standards for orthopedic residents and surgeons as well as evaluating the qualifications and competence of orthopedic surgeons.

Throughout his career, Dr. Flood has acquired extensive experience in performing various surgeries, including joint replacements, arthroscopic procedures, fracture repairs, and common hand surgeries. His broad range of surgical skills allows him to effectively address a wide variety of orthopedic conditions and injuries, helping his patients regain their mobility and improve their quality of life.

His expertise has not only been recognized within the medical community but has also extended to his involvement with sports teams and organizations. He has served as a team physician for renowned teams such as the San Diego Chargers and the San Diego Sockers. Additionally, he has provided his orthopedic consultation services to the U.S. Olympic Training Center in San Diego and the Naval Hospital Camp Pendleton.

In addition to his clinical practice, Dr. Flood has contributed to the advancement of orthopedic knowledge through his research endeavors. He has published several research papers, furthering the understanding and treatment of orthopedic conditions. By staying up-to-date with the latest advancements and research findings, he ensures that his patients receive the most current and evidence-based care available.

Orthopedic surgery is the branch of surgery concerned with conditions involving the musculoskeletal system. Orthopedic surgeons use both surgical and non-surgical means to treat musculoskeletal trauma, spine diseases, sports injuries, degenerative diseases, infections, tumors, and congenital disorders.
