This press release is written to inform the readers that Evan Samlin is dedicated to fostering the resiliency and continuity of small businesses during difficult times.

New York City, New York Aug 15, 2023 (IssueWire.com) - Small businesses who have previously survived the pandemic's storm face challenges as a result of the Delta variant's comeback in COVID-19 cases. The need of appropriate protective equipment becomes important when restrictions tighten and concerns about transmission grow. Unfortunately, a lot of small companies don't have the money to buy these necessary materials.

To help small businesses cope with such situation, Evan Samlin, President and Co-Founder of REIL Capital, worked towards helping small companies amid the current Delta variant surge. REIL Capital has offered 200,000 masks to help preserve the health and wellbeing of small company owners and their staff after realizing the urgent need for preventative measures.

Evan's REIL Capital has taken aggressive measures to solve this issue because it very well understands the crucial role small companies play in local communities and the overall economy. Their dedication to fostering the resiliency and continuity of small businesses during these trying times is demonstrated by their contribution of 200,000 masks.

In addition to donating masks, Evan Samlin offers small business owners helpful financial services and support, assisting them in navigating the shifting economic landscape and overcoming difficulty. He continues to be steadfast in his mission to encouraging sustainable growth and supporting businesses.

Overall, highly passionate about assisting small businesses, Evan prioritizes listening to his clients in order to provide them the best possible service. He works towards creating an environment at work where his employees can inspire from his compassionate attitude and provide the best service possible to the small companies they support.
