

Santo Verduci, the King of cartoon theme songs.

From Europe to the USA comes an all-Italian talent that has already conquered the hearts of teenagers.

Milano, Lombardia Jun 2, 2023 (Issuewire.com) - It is not the first time that an Italian singer-songwriter conquers other countries of the world with his music, and today thanks to streaming you can reach places that were previously the prerogative of the usual BIG music singer.

Santo Verduci, born in Calabria on 24-04-1978, since he was a child is passionate about the world of cartoons in particular to the Japanese ones called "anime". Growing up he realizes his dream of giving his voice to cartoon songs, in fact, thanks to his production company Sanver Production LTD, imports numerous TV series into the Italian and international market, realizes and produces a new opening (new lyrics and music) begins to make himself known in Italy, but the unusual situation is that his record productions are sold abroad and thus begins his climb to international success.

In the USA, to celebrate 10 years of career, his album Greatest hits entitled: "Contactoons Super Hit", a collection of original cartoon songs, even arrived in record stores.

In Italy, he is also famous as a dubber, and dubbing director, he has included in the Italian television landscape numerous successful American movies and lent his voice to several actors.

In Germany, his most popular theme song is "Pokèmon, play and go", in India "Vir the robot boy" of which he himself is the voice of the protagonist and the antagonist Chullbull.

He began his collaboration with Baby TV, a famous Disney channel, which entrusted him with the role of lyricist to write the songs in the Italian version of the songs of the television station. In Italy, he is the narrator of the TV series Pix & Leo, or the voice of Mike in Mike Bike, Kimba the white lion and many others.

Currently available is his latest album Contactoons 6, the original cartoon theme songs. The name of the compilation comes from the children's television show that he has been hosting for 13 years continuously.

Its theme songs are present on TV within the syndication www.universetv.tv (Italy), but also on Amazon Prime Video, Youtube, Rakuten, Chili, and various platforms.

For the international market just write Contactoons or Santo Verduci on Spotify or iTunes, you can listen to his voice very particular, fresh and fun as the songs he produces.

To mention a few: Il mio amico Denver (Denver the last Dinosaurs), Princess Tutu, Starblazers, Voltron, Transformers, La signora Minù.

A new song is added to his artistic career and is taken from an all-Italian fairy tale by the writer Collodi, in fact, the new television theme is entitled: Pinocchio. The Japanese series will arrive in August within its television broadcast, but all its international fans will be able to sing it because it has already been made available in digital stores also in Karaoke version.

Santo Verduci is an eclectic artist, able to convey so much sympathy, and is very active on social media with them he has a true and sincere relationship with his small and great admirers. The Italian press calls him the King of cartoon theme songs to date he has sung over 70 cartoon theme songs and 56 songs for Baby TV.

Santo Verduci currently lives in Milano (Italy), the city known throughout the world for fashion, music. Who knows if some lucky fan will not be able to meet him and get his albums autographed which are listed as collectors or maybe he will hold some concerts in foreign countries? We look forward to having his next album in our hands.
