

A fresh face has emerged in the AI industry.

Enprompt 360- A Kickstarter Campaign

Dover, Delaware Jul 24, 2023 (IssueWire.com) - There are about a billion people currently using ChatGPT. However, getting an awe inspiring response from your AI can be quite challenging. Companies like Boston Children's Hospital, Anthropic, among others, are prepared to invest $300K per year for a competent prompt engineer.

Enprompt 360 the cutting-edge AI text prompt generator that takes your simple prompts and transforms them into extraordinary masterpieces. Whether your choice is Bingchat, ChatGPT, GPT-4, or any other GPT model, Enprompt 360 empowers you to unleash your creativity and effortlessly craft amazing prompts in mere seconds. Access a private preview of this project here.

"We are on a mission to democratize AI prompt engineering techniques," said Harpreet Kaur, Indian-American Woman, creator of Enprompt 360 Project. Users can access this technology from as low as $1. There are marketplaces like Promptbase where you can sell your best prompts for $2-$5.

Whether it's captivating stories, evocative poems, insightful essays, intricate code, or interesting recipes, Enprompt 360 rises to the challenge. Regardless of the topic or task at hand – whether it's creative writing, academic research, or business communication – Enprompt360 effortlessly adapts to meet your specific requirements. Furthermore, it adjusts prompt difficulty and complexity to suit your preferences and requirements.
