

CHIMPZEE helps the WILD Foundation protect the Black Jaguar of the Amazon.

London, United Kingdom Jul 18, 2023 (Issuewire.com) - Chimpzee - a new web3 blockchain project is set to disrupt the way people donate to charities. This new green crypto initiative is more than just a meme coin. Chimpzee is changing the charity giving landscape by offering people an opportunity to benefit while contributing to charities at the same time.

The Chimpzee ecosystem is the main engine which makes it happen. It consists of Shop2Earn, Trade2Earn and Play2Earn. A percentage of all profits generated through the ecosystem will be donated to organizations that share the same mission.

The WILD Foundation was founded in 1974 and is a well-established nonprofit that has been helping save wildlife around the world for decades. Their mission to protect one of the last herds of desert adapted Elephants drew the attention of the Chimpzee project and prompted the Chimpzee Army to spring into action to help raise funds - while still in its early presale, to help protect these animals.

Chimpzee reached its 4th raise goal to help the WILD Foundation on this project to protect and save the black jaguar of the Amazon. Chimpzee donated $20,000.00 through theGivingBlock to the WILD Foundation. The donation will help the Yawanawa people protect their land and the black jaguar's habitat.

Chimpzee's contribution is augmenting the Yawanawa's ability to protect the black jaguar, a sacred animal to them, through field training that will help them better identify threats to the panther habitat. As many already know, the Amazon is at the frontlines of environmental conflict. This conflict threatens traditional cultures and the natural ecology, especially large species like the black jaguar. By equipping traditional peoples with new tools to defend their territory and sacred animals, Chimpzee is helping to keep Earth's life-giving biosphere intact.

Chimpzee understands that nature and the environment cannot wait and has decided to act! It is one of the few projects in their early presale stage that are making a real world impact right now. The WILD Foundation is one of the first organizations to support the Chimpzee project and follows the mission that the Chimpzee project was created for. Chimpzee plans to help a variety of charities that share its mission to save animals and fight climate change and empower more people to contribute in a new way that benefits them.
