The founder of ES Power drink (Chris Clark) We are a private company and we are currently not looking for any new investors at this time. We still have a lot of work to do. The full intention of this press release is to make people aware of our product because we truly believe that we can make a difference in people's lives. Our partners have tirelessly worked for the last two years to get this far and I am very proud of them all. As any new startup we completely understand the challenges and we do realize eventually we will have to go public to bring this amazing product to the whole world. We already have our stock symbol picked out (ESPD).
