Orlando, Florida Jul 18, 2023 (Issuewire.com) - Rental cars represent a significant investment for rental agencies and MooveTrax provides all the essential features needed to protect each car. It's an all-in-one device created by a rental car owner cognizant of the needs within the industry. It helps companies quickly recover vehicles when required and its equally applicable for rideshare services.

MooveTrax utilizes advanced technology to deliver an extensive array of features, including a GPS tracker for secure and contactless car rentals. The device allows rental car agencies to know where their vehicles are at all times. MooveTrax is hardwired in the vehicle and the company will assist clients in locating an installer.

Rental car owners have complete control over all the built-in features. It's a killswitch-enabled GPS tracking device for car rental businesses that renders the car inoperable to the unscrupulous. The device is equipped with geofencing that can be engaged by the rental car company. Owners can set the begin and end rental time for each customer.

Fully customizable, owners can enter the make, model, year, color, and category of each vehicle, along with the VIN number and odometer reading. Owners can view the history of all commands they've issued to a specific vehicle, a detailed history of actions that customers have taken with the car, along with the date and time for each.

Multiple sub-users can be designated and specific features can be delegated to different employees. With the touch of a button, MooveTrax provides a map and directions to any car in the fleet so it can be retrieved quickly and efficiently. MooveTrax is advantageous for rideshare services and makes an excellent Uber carshare tracker.
