

New Documentary “Cages” Shines Light on Chilling State of Child Trafficking

“Cages” documentary shares shocking facts about what’s actually happening in every state.

San Diego, California Jul 3, 2023 (Issuewire.com) - New from director, Lewis Herms comes a documentary that exposes the events happening right below our feet in Arizona and in every other state too, out of the sight of the general population.

The exposure includes Judges and politicians at every level of Government. Herms interviewed investigative journalists, victims and survivors of trafficking, and community leaders who all share their perspectives on this widespread problem and the people behind it all.

“Child trafficking is not a conspiracy theory. It’s happening right under our feet and most people are completely unaware that it’s happening at all.” said, Lewis Herms, who has spent the better part of the last year working tirelessly on Cages. “The way we stop child and human trafficking is to continue to expose it and name the people who are involved,” added Herms who is passionate about his mission.
