Super Custom Signs is pleased to reveal new design ideas for custom office signs for businesses of all sizes.

Typical office space includes a lobby, reception area, and waiting rooms. These spaces are all high-traffic areas for creative corporate office lobby signs. A lobby sign should reflect your company's ideals and professionalism. Whatever size or design may be selected, the office lobby sign should be easy to see and provide a clear statement about the company.

Before getting into new design ideas, owners must first decide what material lobby signs will be made of. Super Custom Signs offers the following (and more):

- Metal Lobby Signs
- Acrylic Lobby Signs
- Backlit Lobby Signs
- Wood Lobby Signs

A personalized lobby sign should represent more than simply a company's logo. It should be unique, intriguing, and accurately reflect the brand's identity. Consider these five amazing ideas from Super Custom Signs that businesses may adapt to their own business.

· HANGING LOBBY SIGNS

If a brand emphasizes simplicity or power, hanging lobby signage may be preferable. Hang it over a doorway or off a wall and instantly grab people's attention.

· LIT LOBBY SIGNS

Nothing enhances a sign like light; a lobby sign is no exception. Lit lobby signage is more dramatic, and elegant, and enhances the atmosphere of your area. Use neon lights, flashing lights, or something more subtle to keep people interested and engaged.

· VINYL & ACRYLIC LOBBY SIGNS

Don't have enough money for a large enough sign? Combining several materials might be a fantastic method to achieve the look you want without breaking the bank. Place a huge vinyl background in front of an acrylic piece. The stunning impression of the acrylic springing out from the wall remains.

· METAL LOBBY SIGNS

Office lobby signage is not required to be hung on the wall. Some can have a big impact even by putting them on the front desk. Metal signs can create a good first impression, no matter where you place them. They certainly give off a truly sleek and elegant feel that people are bound to respond to.

· DIGITAL LOBBY SIGNS

Do you want your lobby sign to be more modern and trendier? A digital lobby sign can do just that. You can use this type of sign to increase sales, educate consumers, get people to interact with your social media, and so much more!
