Get to know Trauma Surgeon, Dr. Thomas S. Granchi, who serves patients in Webster, Texas.

New York City, New York Jul 25, 2023 (Issuewire.com) - Dr. Granchi is a highly skilled trauma surgeon practicing in Webster, Texas, with expertise in both operative and non-operative management of life-threatening traumatic injuries.

Back in the early days of his academic career, he obtained his medical degree from the Ohio State University College of Medicine in 1988, and completed his residency in general surgery at Baylor College of Medicine in 1993.

Recognizing the importance of a well-rounded skill set, Dr. Granchi pursued a Master of Business Administration (MBA) degree in Business Administration from Rice University, graduating in 2003. Later, to further enhance his capabilities, he completed a fellowship in surgical critical care and burn trauma at the University of Texas Medical Branch at Galveston in 2013.

Distinguished as a Fellow of the American College of Surgeons (FACS), the doctor attained board certification in both general surgery and surgical critical care through the American Board of Surgery (ABS). The American Board of Surgery is an independent, nonprofit organization founded in 1937 to provide board certification to individuals who have met a defined standard of education, training, and knowledge in the field of surgery.

Trauma surgery is a surgical specialty that utilizes both operative and non-operative management to treat traumatic injuries, typically in an acute setting. Trauma surgeons generally complete residency training in general surgery and often fellowship training in trauma or surgical critical care. Also called critical care and acute care surgeons, trauma surgeons specialize in performing emergency surgeries on people who have had a critical injury or illness.
