Get to know Oncologist Dr. Dean Kinkel, who serves patients in Marietta, Georgia.

New York City, New York Aug 17, 2023 (Issuewire.com) - Dr. Kinkel is a prominent figure in the field of oncology, bringing a wealth of experience and expertise to his role at Northwest Georgia Oncology Centers (NGOC). His journey in medicine has been marked by a deep commitment to patient well-being, a dedication to advancing cancer treatment, and a track record of academic and clinical excellence.

At NGOC's Marietta Cancer Center, his patient-centered approach comes to the fore. He combines his extensive medical knowledge with a compassionate demeanor, ensuring that each patient feels heard, supported, and empowered throughout their cancer journey. His presence within the center radiates hope and reassurance, providing a pillar of strength to both patients and their families.

A multi-faceted clinician, Dr. Kirkel's clinical interests underscore his commitment to comprehensively addressing the diverse facets of oncology. His areas of expertise encompass lymphomas, plasma cell disorders, breast cancer, clotting disorders, and gastrointestinal neoplasia.

Joining Northwest Georgia Oncology Centers in December 2013, his impact was immediately felt within the medical community. His formative years were spent honing his skills at St. Mary's Health Center / St. Louis University, where he completed his internship and residency in 2004.

Following this period, he embraced a role as a junior faculty member in the Department of Medicine at Washington University in St. Louis. Here, his responsibilities spanned patient management and resident education, encompassing the nuanced realms of general medicine and oncology.

Subsequently, Dr. Kirkel's journey of intellectual and professional growth culminated in the successful completion of his fellowship at George Washington University Medical Center in Washington, D.C. in 2009. This pivotal phase endowed him with the comprehensive insights needed to approach complex cases with expertise and compassion. His pursuit of excellence led him to a private practice in Boynton Beach, FL, where he provided personalized care to patients battling cancer.

Dr. Kirkel is board-certified in medical oncology, hematology, and internal medicine by the American Board of Internal Medicine (ABIM). The ABIM is a physician-led, non-profit, independent evaluation organization driven by doctors who want to achieve higher standards for better care in a rapidly changing world.

Intrinsically tied to his professional philosophy is a dedication to the advancement of cancer treatment and research. Dr. Kirkel is actively engaged in cancer research and clinical trials, seeking not only to alleviate the suffering of his patients but also to contribute to the broader pursuit of a cure. Serving as a Principal Investigator of the William S. Gibbons Cancer Research Institute, he pursues innovative strategies to combat this disease.

Oncology is a branch of medicine that deals with the prevention, diagnosis, and treatment of cancer. A medical professional who practices oncology is an oncologist. An oncologist is a doctor who treats cancer and provides medical care for a person diagnosed with cancer. They lead a cancer treatment team of various healthcare professionals, treat patients with radiation therapy, coordinate treatment plans and prescribe various types of treatment, including chemotherapy and immunotherapy, as well as assist patients with pain management.
