Get to know Dentist Dr. Saed Abughoush, who serves the population of Illinois.

New York City, New York Aug 23, 2023 (IssueWire.com) - Dr. Abughoush is a dentist currently practicing with Universal Dental in Illinois. He graduated with his Doctor of Medicine in Dentistry Degree. He is a member of the American Dental Association, and Illinois State Dental Society, and is the Founder of the Dental Society for Helping Students.

To earn a Doctor of Medicine in Dentistry Degree, students generally need a four-year undergraduate education. Afterward, they go to dental school for another four years of educational, clinical, and dental laboratory training. After graduating with a Doctor of Medicine in Dentistry Degree, dentists have to pass rigorous examinations. In the United States, dentists must pass the National Board Dental Examinations, which is a national written exam. They also have to pass a state exam to be licensed to practice there. With such extensive education and examination requirements, patients can rest assured that any dentist with a Doctor of Medicine in Dentistry Degree is well qualified.

General dentists provide a wide array of services that are vital to patients' continued health. These services include: preventive services, including helping to maintain good oral health by stopping disease before it takes hold in the mouth; restorative services, such as receiving timely and appropriate treatment when a problem is identified; as well as cosmetic services, including performing a range of cosmetic procedures, such as teeth whitening, cosmetic bonding, and even porcelain veneers. General dentists also address overall health concerns as oral health is seen as the mirror of general health. In fact, some dental problems may reflect issues in other parts of the body and vice versa.
