Manila, Luzon Sep 13, 2023 (Issuewire.com) - Not new to the literary scene, Francis F. Pitard once again takes readers on an expedition to the past with his striking novel — Heirs of a Lost Race. Together with Authors Press, Francis F. Pitard will showcase four of his notable works in the 2023 Manila International Book Fair this September 14 to 17 at the SMX Convention Center.

Heirs of a Lost Race tells of the awe-inspiring love between Kon Tici and Hina of the Valley. Despite living on different principles, upbringings, and beliefs; they found their way to each other. None of their differences forestalled their love to grow and flourish. Forthwith, they start a life together unbeknownst to what lies ahead.

Francis F. Pitard shows a deep understanding of the Polynesian customs in this work. His writing technique brings characters to life which allows readers to experience and envision the culture of bygone days, adding an extra layer of emotion and meaning to the story.

Francis F. Pitard is a consultant in sampling statistics and total quality management. He believes that it is crucial for everyone to have a high standard of living, and individuals have the capability to attain it by implementing peaceful ethical practices, displaying self- assurance, self-esteem, self-discipline, and honoring other people's values.
