Longview, Washington Oct 5, 2023 (Issuewire.com) - CASCADE NORTHWEST CONSULTING, a pioneering consultancy firm in school safety and threat management, announces its initiative: Behavioral Threat Assessment Management services. The announcement is particularly timely, as school safety remains a national concern that has dominated public discourse for over two decades. Institutions looking for student threat assessment training services can contact the firm.

Adam Scattergood, a Consultant at CASCADE NORTHWEST CONSULTING, highlighted the urgency of the issue, saying, "In an era where concerns about safety in educational settings have never been more pronounced, we need a system that is robust in its technical capacity yet flexible enough to adapt to the unique challenges each learning environment presents. At CASCADE NORTHWEST CONSULTING, our focus is not just on intervention but on preventing threats through a multi-disciplinary, multi-agency approach."

The Behavioral Threat Assessment Management system employed by CASCADE NORTHWEST CONSULTING goes beyond mere intervention to provide a comprehensive approach to school threats and violence. The program leverages individualized interventions and supervision strategies to improve physical and psychological safety in educational settings. According to the firm, this two-pronged focus on physical and mental well-being sets it apart and answers a pressing community need for more holistic safety measures.

Adam Scattergood, who has been a leading figure in the field of behavioral health for 22 years, leads the consultancy team. He holds a Master's degree in counseling psychology, is a Certified Threat Manager, and has received formal training on the Salem-Keizer Cascade Threat Assessment System. He is also a member of the Association of Threat Assessment Professionals. Scattergood expressed the firm's commitment to sharing its expertise through collaborations and training at local, regional, and state levels.

"As someone with years of experience in this domain, I know how crucial it is to create and maintain safe learning environments. CASCADE NORTHWEST CONSULTING is committed to this mission," Adam said. Feel free to reach out if you're looking for student threat assessment training services.

To further disseminate this vital expertise, CASCADE NORTHWEST CONSULTING offers a range of training programs, lasting from one to three days, specifically designed to meet the needs of individual schools, districts, or regions. These training sessions can be conducted in-person and remotely, including follow-up consultation and technical support for full program implementation.
