Thinking outside the box and experimenting with new things is something that the artist always resonates with. Now with the official music video of 'Alien Computer', the world finally gets a glimpse of his immense talent and creativity. The artist has the capability of taking his listeners to a whole new world, his imaginative state which is impossible to ignore or forget. The single and its official video give off a similar vibe where the audiences get transported into his imaginative world of music transcending musical genres.

The musical genre of electronic music has become one of the most popular musical genres in the world with so many artists and musicians gaining success and popularity. Now a new name Mad Science Lab is getting added to the list with the artist's pure talent. James Gideon is the official face behind the name, although various other talented artists have helped him craft this unique musical piece. The artist takes great inspiration from science and technology which is why most of its music maintains the similar theme of technological advancements and futuristic music. 'Alien Computer' is one such musical creation that will be remembered for a long time because of its amazing blend of electronic beats. The composition of the song is the star that elevates the song in seconds and refreshes the moods of the listeners immediately.

The music video features a bright screen with different colors and objects and maintains a monotony that fits perfectly with the theme of the track and its composition. Based heavily on synthesizers the soundscape is so captivating that listeners will have that in repeat. Gideon has crafted such an alluring track that it is not only getting appreciation from the music lovers but also from the critics from all over the world. In just a month of its release, the video has already gotten around nineteen thousand views on YouTube, displaying the affection listeners have towards the musical piece. Along with the video on YouTube, audiences can listen to his other creations such as 'Humans and Machines', 'Requiem for a Father I Never Knew', 'Descent into the Sorrow (End War Now)', 'Mysterious Pluto', 'Saturn's Rings', etc. on Spotify and Apple Music.
