New York City, New York Nov 14, 2023 (Issuewire.com) - Mary Jeanne, a dedicated broker with RE/MAX Equity Group, proudly calls Canby, Oregon her hometown. Being a third-generation native of this charming community, she possesses deep roots and an extensive understanding of the local real estate landscape.

In 2021, Mary Jeanne decided to follow in the footsteps of her family and entered the world of real estate. Prior to this career transition, she spent a decade as an educator, sharing her knowledge and passion with students. Her teaching experience, which included five years at the rural Molalla River Academy and another five years at Cecile Trost Elementary in Canby, played a crucial role in shaping her approach to real estate.

Navigating the ever-evolving real estate landscape in Oregon proves to be no small feat, particularly in a market as dynamic and competitive as this. However, Mary Jeanne has embraced the challenges posed by the volatile market characterized by high buyer demand and limited inventory. Over time, she has honed her skills in negotiation, offer preparation, marketing, and precise valuation of properties. Her commitment to excellence ensures that her clients receive top-notch service in every aspect of their real estate transactions. She firmly believes that her years as a teacher equipped her with a rich set of skills that she now employs daily to serve her clients, positioning herself as a partner who guides them through the intricate journey of buying or selling a home.

Mary Jeanne's connection to the real estate world runs deep within her family. Her mother embarked on her own successful real estate career while Mary Jeanne was in college, and she vividly recalls the dedication and hours her mother invested in studying for her licensing exam. Her mother's experiences greatly influence Mary Jeanne's approach to her work. Additionally, her father, who had a thriving career as a regional sales manager in the pet food industry, transitioned into real estate as the principal broker for the Canby branch of RE/MAX Equity Group. Mary Jeanne had the privilege of partnering with her father, cherishing the support and mentorship he provided.

In recognition of her exceptional performance during her first full year in the industry, she was awarded Rookie of the Year for all of RE/MAX Equity Group, solidifying her as an outstanding professional in the field.
