

OTG Video Productions has signed a deal to Live Stream the Junior Women's Hockey League

Boston, Massachusetts Nov 15, 2023 (IssueWire.com) - OTG Video Productions has signed a deal to Live Stream the Junior Women's Hockey League (JWHL.org) for the weekend of October 17-19 for a set of 15 hockey games at Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute in Troy New York. "This is a multi-camera fast sports action shoot and is exactly the kind of streaming we excel at", said David Emello the company president. "Using the latest technology, with play-by-play video services, OTG can send a clear stream to the team's Youtube channel for excited fans to watch and listen to the event".

OTG Video Productions is a New England based video production company. Capabilities include on-location and studio productions. With editing capabilities, live events can be edited to customer's needs for short and long video results. OTG, a leader in live video streaming, utilizes the latest technologies. "The key to success in this industry is to keep up with technology: remarks David Emello. "Since Covid and the acceptance of on-line content and media, people have come to expect streaming as a way of life. The video has been normalized and is now widely accepted". To learn more, contact OTG via email: info@otg.video or call 617-254-1200 and talk to a professional for all your sports video needs.
