

Repmove: The Tool for Success for Salespersons and Agents

Parker, Colorado Nov 14, 2023 (Issuewire.com) - In recent realities, in the era of maximum technologization of all spheres of life, it is difficult to imagine a sphere of activity in which the acquisitions of science are not taken into account. To be successful and get ahead of your competitors, you need to use as much as possible all possible technical means that will perform most of the important technical functions in organizing and implementing your best ideas in business. RepMove is the technology for great planning of trade movements, redistribution of outlets between traders and development of all sales. RepMove technology procures a unique opportunity to take into account many factors when realizing territory management in the trading system.

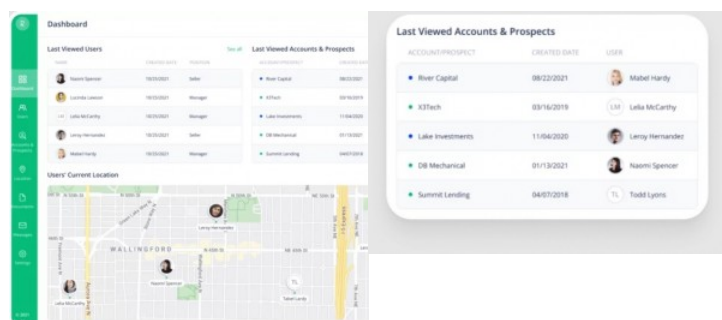

RepMove is a daily assistant in trade and business, performing the functions of an entire department in a trading company. Its main advantage is territory management during planning of trading activities, when you can accurately calculate the necessary costs, resources, travel time between retail outlets and necessary stops. Besides, there is a unique possibility to create a way for the employee, where many points will be developed.

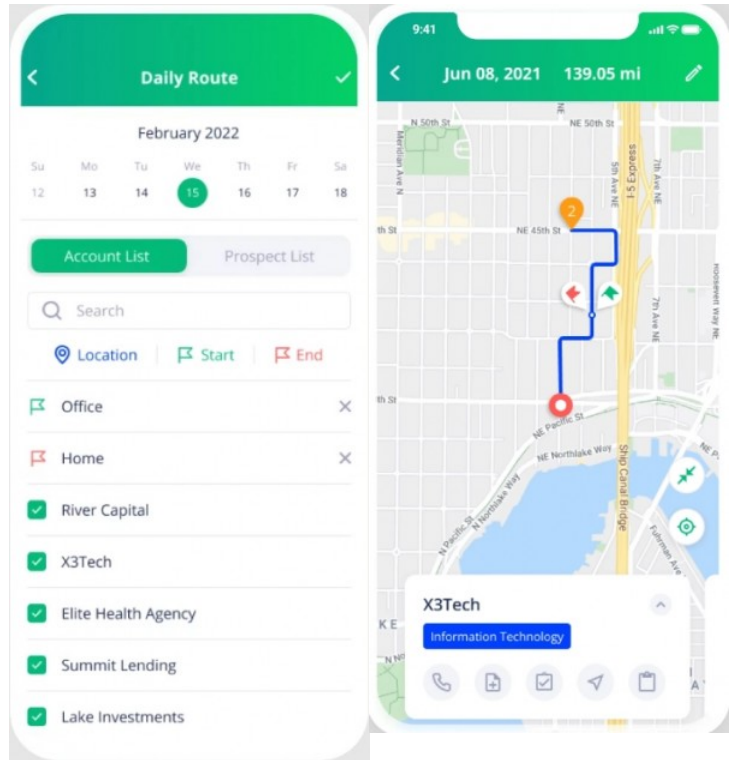

The advantage of the application is the ability to integrate it with terrain maps and current data regarding the transport system. It's very cool that all employees can make changes to the interactive part of the application and you can see their work order in real time.

You can combine many accounts of sales representatives into one system that works in an online format and in real time - they receive instructions, routes, mark their implementation and their movement. Both sales representatives and delivery workers will see joint actions and make comments to maximize trade improvement. The application's online format makes it possible to make adjustments to the movements of workers and change routes as necessary.

Using such territory management software, you plan in detail the path and movements of the sales representative, set the necessary time frames and order of movements. The important aspect is that you see the maximum of factors that impact the benefit of trading activities - from the duration of the path between retail points, to current journey conditions and possible jams. Based on the use of the technology, you create an excellent algorithm of a successful business realization, where everything functions as smoothly as it's possible and each component of the trading set accurately realizes its functions.
