Get to know Certified Physician Assistant Stephanie Weber, PA-C, who serves patients in Dallas, Texas.

New York City, New York Nov 6, 2023 (IssueWire.com) - Stephanie is a certified physician assistant practicing at Scottish Rite for Children in Dallas, Texas. Her professional focus encompasses a range of specialties, including general orthopedics, scoliosis and spine disorders, and hip disorders.

Scottish Rite for Children is a world-renowned leader in the treatment of pediatric orthopedic conditions, sports injuries, and fractures, as well as certain related arthritic and neurological disorders and learning disorders, such as dyslexia. The institution seeks to advance the care of children worldwide through innovative research and teaching programs.

Throughout her academic career, Stephanie received her Bachelor of Science Degree in Psychology from Arizona State University in 2015. Subsequently, she earned her Master of Physician Assistant Studies at the University of Texas Southwestern Medical Center in 2021.

Positioning herself as a valuable asset in the realm of pediatric orthopedics and healthcare, Stephanie is certified through the National Commission on Certification of Physician Assistants (NCCPA). Established as a not-for-profit organization in 1974, NCCPA provides certification programs that reflect standards for clinical knowledge, clinical reasoning, and other medical skills and professional behaviors required upon entry into practice and throughout the careers of PAs.

A physician assistant is a health care practitioner who practices medicine in collaboration with physicians. They examine patients, prescribe medicine, and order diagnostic tests. In most cases, they work under the supervision of physicians or surgeons, but they can work more independently in some states, rural areas, and inner-city areas, consulting with physicians only when they need help with cases.
