Besides, it comes with other minor features such as media editor, disc menu designer, photo slideshow maker, and photo to DVD/4K Blu-ray/Blu-ray burner. The Prof. Media suite has always been a powerhouse in multimedia solutions, and this update solidifies its reputation. Here are the key enhancements:

- BDAV to DVD Conversion

The spotlight of this upgrade is on the revolutionary BDAV to DVD conversion feature, expanding the horizons of multimedia compatibility. Users can now effortlessly convert BDAV videos to DVD, providing a seamless bridge between different media formats and platforms.

- Flexible Subtitle Settings

In response to user demands, the UHD Creator module has been enhanced with subtitle selection/adding options. This empowers users with greater creative control, allowing them to personalize UHD creations by incorporating subtitles that resonate with their preferences or cater to diverse audiences.

- User Interface Optimization

User interface optimization takes center stage with the Ripper and DVD to Blu-ray Converter modules, where title display has been refined. Navigating through media collections is now more intuitive, offering users an enhanced experience in managing and converting their titles.

- Neat Installation Interface

A fresh look and feel accompany the installation interface, ensuring a user-centric and straightforward experience. The revamped interface guides users through the installation process with clarity and efficiency, reflecting Leawo's commitment to user satisfaction.

Currently, this new updated version has been available for people to download and experience on Leawo's official website.
