Sydney, New South Wales Nov 6, 2023 (Issuewire.com) - TWELVE ELEVEN Photography & videography announces the launch of the instant image package for couples. After they launched their brand new website with user-friendly and easy navigation facilities, the Sydney wedding photography packages team announced the launch of new and interesting Instant Image packages for couples opting for a quick wedding. More and more couples are skipping the traditional wedding rulebook and looking for a short wedding with perfect images of their big day. The traditional way to get married involves a big reception and rituals such as cake cutting, multiple toasts, and dancing. A Sydney wedding photographer and videographer are responsible for capturing everything, and the newly married couple will have to wait for weeks or months for the pictures.

Since the pandemic, the use of social media has been on the rise for a wedding as well. Many weddings were converted into elopements during the pandemic. When people were unable to gather for a big ceremony, social media images and videos were the focal point. The Sydney wedding photographer said, "Romantic couples felt eloping was the best way for them to be sane and will help them get through the pandemic lockdowns. They described it as," Two individuals committing their lives to each other without any regrets, stress, pressure, or distractions". Couples stated that they were free to immerse themselves in each other, concentrate on each other, and celebrate their love in an unrestricted way that made the most sense for themselves – all because they chose to elope!"

Sydney wedding videographer says," Many of the pandemic trends are still loved. People inquire about it. They want to shoot lesser ceremonies and more elopements rather than the complete wedding ceremonies from start to end. The term "micro weddings" is being chosen over a traditional wedding. Thus, our wedding photography and videography packages Sydney team has come up with instant image packages for couples who are looking forward to getting their images instantly to share on their social media as a live wedding reel or images. We have packages based on fewer numbers of traditions and couple-focused photography and videography. The packages have distinct advantages, including the provision of faster photos and behind-the-scenes videos that can be easily shared on social media."
