- The Hell Fire Club:

The central narrative of this journey is shaped by the enigmatic secrets slowly unraveling, owing to the historical backdrop of the area. As we navigate through the trails and varied terrain, the natural surroundings envelop us, setting the atmosphere.

Upon reaching the summit, we come across the ancient Megalithic site, established by the revered ancestors of Ireland during ancient times, specifically in the era of BC. At this location, a tomb once stood undisturbed until it was disrupted by a faction of free Masons radicals.

The site fell victim to looting and eventual destruction, as its construction materials were repurposed for the creation of a hunting lodge in 1735. This lodge, now steeped in legend, is famously known as the Hell Fire Club!

Considerations for Planning Your Dublin Ghost Bus Tour

Before booking a ghost tour Dublin, here are some things you must consider and recommend by Horror Hike Dublin Ghost Tour company:

#1. It is important to note that the starting point for the tours is the historic gates of St. Audeon Church situated on Cook Street. The tour departure time provides a 10-minute grace period. Our designated transport to Montpelier Hill is The Banshee, a luxurious Mercedes-built bus equipped with 20 comfortable seats and expansive windows for optimal sightseeing. Considering the unpredictable Irish climate, we recommend visitors pack rain gear and sturdy, ankle-supporting shoes for these excursions.

#2. Although the hike is generally considered easy, it's crucial to acknowledge that uphill slopes may test your stamina. The journey involves a challenging 20-minute climb, which could be demanding for those with heart or mobility issues. It's important to understand that the local tour operator assumes no responsibility for accidents, thefts, or other damages during the tour and reserves the right to refuse entry or cancel the tour at any moment. By participating in the Horror Hike Hellfire special tour, you confirm that you possess the mental and physical capability to handle the challenges.

#3. Note that the tour is exclusively open to adult participants due to the intense nature of our investigation into the mysteries and lore surrounding the Hellfire Club—no children are permitted.

#4. Additionally, be aware that there are no restroom facilities in the Dublin Mountains and its tour sites, so it's advisable to use facilities before the adventure begins.
