

William Heath, Recognized by BestAgents.us as a 2023 Top Agent

Living by his trademarked mantra, “In My World, Everyone Is Luxury,” Will strives to achieve proven successes with absolute humility.

New York City, New York Dec 29, 2023 (Issuewire.com) - With an extensive career in the real estate industry, Will brings a dedicated, passionate, and proven approach to those he serves at eXp Realty / Global Luxury. Notably, he holds the unique distinction of being the only REALTOR® in North Carolina with dual licensing as a Certified Master Inspector, having previously owned an inspections firm.

With a relentless focus on the satisfaction of and efficiency for his client-family, Will is a trusted partner for all real estate needs in North Carolina, and soon within South Carolina as well. He is renowned for his unwavering commitment to community service and a genuine passion for helping people from all walks of life, having forged a distinctive and unparalleled path in the real estate sector.

Over a span of more than thirty-five years, Will has served in various capacities within the community, including areas such as construction, codes enforcement, education/training, inspections, and public safety within the EMS, Fire, and Law Enforcement fields. Additionally, he has humbly dedicated his time to various locally and nationally based non-profit groups and initiatives. Through his extensive personal and professional experiences in these fields, Will has cultivated a vast network of service professionals, industry leaders across the nation, and various international partners ready to assist where needed.

Having authored/co-authored articles and courses for the fire service, Will has also developed a course within the real estate industry addressing the liabilities for realtors in relation to property inspections, titled "Avoiding The Risk." Presently, he is in the process of completing a comprehensive course bearing the same name. This course is intended to be submitted to the N.C. Real Estate Commission for approval to be instructed for Continuing Education (CE) hours. Will is also a coach/mentor for eXp Realty who is currently re-writing the playbook on how mentors instruct their agents who are new to the North Carolina Real Estate Industry.

Deeply rooted in faith, Will attributes his achievements to a higher power, giving credit to God for his successes and expressing gratitude for all experiences in his life. Honesty and absolute integrity are fundamental aspects of his character, allowing him to view himself objectively.

"I have amazing people in my life that I learn from every single day while watching them accomplish amazing things and living out amazing lives with honor and humility. My son and daughter make me appreciate life more and more daily and have for the last twenty-four and eighteen years, respectively. My son is a BEAST, having carried on the family business within the fire service and just having an absolutely amazing heart, and an absolutely amazing head on his shoulders. Then there's my daughter who is also a BEAST who's close to graduating high school with a college degree while also being a phenomenal artist and an insane hockey aficionado... There are honestly far too many things to name, but as cheesy as it may sound, I just have an appreciation for all the things God has made around me, for me, and within me. I am especially thankful for the journey he has provided me, my entire life. I would not have had, nor learned from the amazing experiences if not for my Lord and Savior "

Despite acknowledging life's challenges, Will maintains a positive outlook and seeks the silver lining in every situation. Guided by the principles instilled by his hard working Christian parents and older brother, he values loving everyone unconditionally and leads a purpose-driven life, focusing on what truly matters.

When he is not orchestrating solutions for his client family, Will takes pleasure in quality time with his wonderful daughter and son. His natural inclination leads him to savor outdoor activities, and he is passionately involved with several charitable organizations. These include the North Carolina and National Fallen Firefighter Foundations, along with active participation in The Mighty Oaks Foundation. The latter focuses on enhancing the mental and physical health and well-being of military and public safety members, as well as their families.
