

Autism Workshop to Launch Soon

Humanities 101 Foundation Announces Autism Inclusion Workshop to combat Autism Suicide Crisis

Flint, Michigan Jan 22, 2024 (Issuewire.com) - Humanities 101 Foundation Announces Autism Inclusion Workshop to combat ASD Suicide Crisis

The Humanities 101 Foundation, a leader in promoting inclusive education and understanding, is excited to announce the launch of its groundbreaking Autism Inclusion Workshop. This initiative marks a significant step in the Foundation's commitment to fostering an inclusive and supportive community for individuals with autism.

The Autism Inclusion Workshop is designed to educate and empower educators, community leaders, and the public about the unique challenges and perspectives of individuals with autism. This interactive program aims to bridge gaps in understanding and create a more inclusive environment in educational institutions, workplaces, and communities.

"We believe that understanding and inclusion go hand in hand," said Dr Adam Hazlett, Executive Director, Humanities 101 Foundation. "With the Autism Inclusion Workshop, we are taking a proactive approach to educate and inspire positive change in how society interacts with the neurodiverse population."

Participants in the workshop will engage in hands-on activities, hear from experts in the field, and gain valuable insights into the world of autism. The program is designed to be accessible and informative for people with varying levels of familiarity with autism.

Established with the vision of creating an inclusive society, the Humanities 101 Foundation serves the 15-20% of the world's population identified as neurodiverse, as reported by the CDC. The Foundation's mission is to educate, raise awareness, and advocate for the acceptance of all neurodiverse individuals, emphasizing the urgent need to address challenges faced by the autistic community. "With the epidemic of suicide in the autistic community and startling statistics on life expectancy in the ASD community, there is no time like the present to get the word out. We have to save lives," emphasized Dr. Hazlett.

The Humanities 101 Foundation invites schools, municipalities, and businesses interested in hosting or participating in the Autism Inclusion Workshop to contact them. Engaging with this workshop is a step towards building a more accepting and informed society.

Statements from Dr. Adam Hazlett, Founder & Executive Director:

"The Autism Inclusion Workshop is more than just an educational program; it's a lifeline to many who feel misunderstood and isolated. By bringing this workshop to various institutions, we aim to create a ripple effect of awareness and empathy," stated Dr. Hazlett.
