Skibbereen, Cork Jan 12, 2024 (Issuewire.com) - Get Sick Cert has announced its online doctor prescription services for adults in Ireland. The concept is ideal for Irish employees and university students to make wellness more accessible and acceptable in times of minor illnesses in a busy schedule.

Speaking up about the core utilities of the platform, the administrative head of GSC was quoted as saying, "In an age where productivity is paramount, resting times are crunching, and minor illnesses are not enough of a reason to take a day off. But if someday someone chooses to listen to their body, we tend to create a platform that makes it easy for them to rest during their sick time. That's all we got to give."

Making sense of the system, there are so many ways in which this particular plan to deliver online doctor prescriptions in Ireland is different from conventional telehealth services. It is a completely new outlook. Get Sick Cert is slowly getting into facilitating the roundabout of a solution for anyone who needs non-emergency healthcare without leaving their home.

Online Medical Assistance More Convenient for the Irish

For a full recovery, a minor illness requires minor care; otherwise, it may worsen and continue. But even this minor care is sometimes harder to get than it may seem.

Today, with the Get Sick Cert platform, you can access GP consultations online, 24-hours a day, 7 days a week. Whether a doctor's clinic is far from your place or you are so ill or exhausted that you don't feel like travelling, in all situations, Get Sick Cert will arrange an appointment with a GP consultation over the phone or even a video call if necessary.

Connect: Visit the website of Get Sick Cert and go to the "Online Doctor Prescription" page. Or you can sign up for their contact form if you need assistance. Select the ailment you need medication for and get started.

Fill out the medical questionnaire: This is the most important way to report your medical condition. The more honest and accurate your answers, symptoms, and other parameters, the better care you can get. Also, select the medication and a preferred pharmacy. Get Sick Cert will send over the prescription to the drugstore to make it easier for you to simply fetch it without waiting time.

Arrange doorstep delivery: Check with the drugstore if they offer doorstep delivery to your location. This is the final call you make—to simply open your door and get your medications.

You may additionally book an online doctor appointment to discuss your condition in more detail or talk about your unique needs. Seek personalised medical advice on the treatment for your medical condition over an online video consultation, before you get prescriptions and medical supplements.

"We only collaborate with Ireland's top virtual physicians. Say goodbye to long lines at clinics. Take advantage of prescriptions, therapy, and advice from the convenience of your own home."

Get Sick Cert Sees The Value of Promoting More Responsible Modes of Self-Treatment for Minor Illnesses

When you are down with a cold or hay fever on a workday, taking a leave for over 2-3 days increases the need for a sick note and medication to get back to work as soon as possible. While self-medication is prevalent in Ireland, it takes a good deal of effort to get them, and the easiest way is to keep stock of aspirins and paracetamol and pop them whenever you feel low. Get Sick Cert is going to break this chain by making access to and usage of medications more responsible.

"We need to make sure that our users are getting the medications under the best supervision and in responsible modes," said a member of the GSC administrative body.

Get Sick Cert aligns with highly reputed GPs and medical professionals who have championed a more proactive approach to the delivery of self-treatment products and services. With a focus on minor illnesses, the company seeks to equip users with reliable digital resources to make informed decisions about their health.
