

Scott Ford, Recognized by BestAgents.us as a 2023 Top Agent

Navigating challenging circumstances to achieve positive outcomes, Scott utilizes equity to help people move forward in life.

New York City, New York Jan 8, 2024 (Issuewire.com) - Scott is currently a manager and real estate investor at Home Equity Loss Prevention, LLC in Manchester, New Hampshire. Specializing in residential and commercial equity loss, he has honed his expertise in this field.

His journey in fixing things and helping people began at the age of 12 when Scott assisted his father at his repair shop/ARCO gas station. This early exposure fueled his passion, leading him to work for the GM/Oldsmobile division in 1983 and eventually opening his own automotive repair facility, “The Performance Place,” in 1989.

Unfortunately, a life-altering ATV accident in September 2016 left Scott paralyzed, ending his career as an automotive technician. Despite attempts to sustain his business, the physical challenges proved insurmountable, and he sold “The Performance Place” in 2022 after 33 years of success.

Transitioning from the automotive industry to the real estate industry, Scott’s business model revolves around assisting people facing uncontrollable situations such as divorce, job loss, tax liens, probate, downsizing, or relocation, among others. His unwavering commitment and tenacity in confronting challenges have been instrumental in his success.

Beyond his professional achievements, Scott serves as an inspiration to his children and grandchildren, leaving behind a noteworthy legacy for future generations.
