

Celebrating Black Heritage: Queen Pennin Releases Groundbreaking Artistic Expression Piece “We The People”

Join Queen Pennin in celebrating Black History Month and embracing the power of unity, resilience, and cultural heritage

Wilmington, North Carolina Feb 29, 2024 (Issuewire.com) - In honor of Black History Month, Sherise Hackney, who goes by the stage name Queen Pennin, proudly unveils her latest artistic masterpiece, "We The People." This profound composition serves as a reflection of her identity as a black woman, mother, citizen, veteran, entrepreneur, author, and writer, paying homage to her rich heritage while bearing testament to her multifaceted journey and unwavering pride in her roots.

Following her inspiring participation in the 50th anniversary of the March on Washington last year, where Queen Pennin listened to esteemed speakers and had a memorable encounter with Nick Cannon, the spirit of empowerment and resilience ignited the spark for "We The People." Drawing inspiration from the iconic instrumental of The Notorious B.I.G.'s hit song "Hypnotize," the piece exudes a blend of strength, passion, and cultural significance.

"We The People" has already begun making waves, with local radio play on a station in North Carolina and availability on all major streaming platforms including Spotify, Apple Music, and iHeartRadio. Its captivating melodies and powerful lyrics offer listeners a glimpse into Queen Pennin's soulful narrative, bridging the gap between past struggles and present triumphs.

In conjunction with the release, Queen Pennin issues a special Black History Month Challenge to all supporters. Participants are encouraged to post a Black history tribute on their social media platforms, accompanied by "We The People" from the music library and the hashtags #QueenPennin and #BHMChallenge. Through this collective effort, Queen Pennin aims to amplify the voices and stories of black excellence and resilience throughout history, inspiring and motivating others.

About Queen Pennin:

Queen Pennin is revolutionizing the music industry by introducing a unique fusion of rap, poetry, and spoken word. With a commitment to uplifting marginalized voices and advocating for black empowerment and cultural heritage, Queen Pennin aims to inspire, encourage, and motivate audiences worldwide through her artistry and activism.
