Currently working as an independent artist, this musician is letting the world explore the depth of her musical genius through colorful and meaningful records. From an early age, the artist has been an ardent admirer of art. She used to take great passion and joy in several art forms like painting, photography, and acting. Other than anything, she was impressed by the storytelling and the power and impact these have on the emotions of people.

With time, she realized that music alone can do so much more. The stories that she wants to tell people, the incidents and emotions she wants to share with the rest of the world, FRNCE realized can be done most perfectly through music. This is what drove the young talent to create musical pieces that are not only pleasing to the ears but leave a mark on the hearts of the listeners. She followed her debut single with another single 'El Mundo' and finally her debut album 'Serendipia'. Apart from her musical genius, creative choices, and brilliant compositions, the songs in her debut album are both in English and Spanish language, breaking barriers, and reaching more audiences from all over the world. The duality of the album is a special note to her roots and origin where she is most definitely a 'Cachanilla', but was raised in California.
