

Stefaniya Makarova and Alex Kazmarck offer to make February 29th a Global Day of Celebration: A Leap Towards Unity

Let us leap together towards a future where every February 29th, we pause, reflect, and celebrate our shared journey on this planet.

Miami, Florida Jun 7, 2024 (Issuewire.com) - We stand at a unique juncture in time, with an opportunity to unify the world through a celebration that transcends borders, cultures, and languages. Alex Kazmark and Stefaniya Makarova's proposal is simple yet profound: to designate February 29th, an extraordinary day that graces our calendars only once every four years, as a Global Holiday. This day will be dedicated to fostering global unity, celebrating diversity, and encouraging acts of kindness and environmental sustainability.

Stefaniya Makarova is a petite model and advocates for petite models in fashion industry. She created a community for petite models petite & proud and PETITE Movement. PETITE is acronym for Personality Empowerment To Intelligence To Enlightenment. Stefaniya believes fashion is not about height, it's about personality. This movement is about accepting yourself for who you are. Petite people has also their day Petite & Proud Day

Why February 29th?

February 29th is a day that defies the ordinary, a temporal gift that comes only every leap year. Its rarity makes it the perfect occasion for a global celebration, emphasizing our shared humanity and the preciousness of time. By marking this day as a special occasion, we remind ourselves of the importance of coming together to cherish every moment and the world we all call home.

Aims of the Global Holiday:

Unity: In a world often divided, February 29th can serve as a bridge, bringing together people from different backgrounds, cultures, and beliefs to celebrate what unites us.

Joy and Happiness: A day dedicated to global happiness, encouraging communities to partake in festivities that reflect their unique traditions and shared human experiences.

Kindness: A call to action for individuals to perform acts of kindness, fostering a spirit of generosity and compassion worldwide.

Environmental Sustainability: Promoting activities that contribute to the health of our planet, emphasizing the importance of taking action to protect and preserve our environment for future generations.

Educational Impact: Utilizing this day to educate about global cultures, environmental issues, and the importance of unity, thereby nurturing a global mindset among young and old alike.

Call to Action:

We invite you, the global community, to join us in the petition to establish February 29th as a day of worldwide celebration and reflection. By signing this petition, you are not just advocating for a day off; you are supporting a vision of a more connected, joyful, and sustainable world.

Together, we can make February 29th a beacon of hope, unity, and joy that shines across borders, illuminating the beauty of our diverse world.
