From MARCH 18 to MARCH 26

Catonsville, Mar 18, 2024 (Issuewire.com) - SoundCloud is one of the most popular music streaming platforms which has millions of active listeners. As a result, many emerging artists use this platform as a potential career choice where they can establish themselves as professional music artists. Being a leading organization for the promotion, Music Promotion Club can help to empower these artists with a huge amount of organic exposure, popularity, and a fan base. The agency is currently offering an attractive discount of 10% on its promotional packages which are especially designed for the music artist on SoundCloud. This discount offer is starting from March 18th and will be empowering everyone till March 26th. The agency is inviting every music artist to take complete advantage of this golden opportunity.

This March discount is applicable to all kinds of SoundCloud Promotion Services offered by the company. Starting from diversified packages with different features and costs to custom packages that cater to the unique needs of each music artist, every user can avail of the 10% discount. There are four main packages for SoundCloud Promotion namely, SoundCloud Marketing Package, SoundCloud Marketing Weekly Pack, SoundCloud Promotion Package, and SoundCloud Promotion Weekly Package. Since these marketing and promotional packages are also available in weekly recurring options, the artists can proceed with their promotional campaigns for as long as they require. Highly effective and comprised of different promotional strategies; the campaign can help to gain up to 36K - 37K+ listeners, 300+ Likes with 260+ Reposts. There are also the benefits of content marketing, Video Creation, Email Marketing, Latest Event Promotion, and the list goes on.

Other than these main packages, Music Promotion Club also provides a service for SoundCloud promotion Custom Packages where the music artists can opt for the exact features they are looking for. By selecting the required choices, the users can build their own custom packages that cater to their needs. The cost for this custom package depends on the features an artist opts for. However, the company has kept every package within a nominal budget which makes it greatly helpful for beginners and emerging music artists in the industry. The discount of 10% is also applicable to the custom package. In the custom package, every user can reach up to 150k organic plays along with the benefits of paid social media promotion through the platforms like Facebook, Instagram as well as Google Ads. For content marketing, music artists can choose from diversified options like Music Blogs, Reviews, and Interviews as well as Paid Press Release creation and distribution. Music artists are also open to the option of getting featured in a renowned digital music magazine which offers improved exposure.

The Custom Package also offers a service for EPK or Electronic Press Kit which helps music artists in their promotional approaches for the future as well. This kit is highly effective and consists of the elements like artist's vision, biography, professional photos, high-quality music videos, and other details. Music Promotion Club is well revered for its fairly reasonable and effective promotional campaigns. And now, artists can avail of their SoundCloud promotion services at a huge discount of 10%, from March 18th to March 26th. Hurry up, before it is too late!
