BriBooks Presents

NATIONAL YOUNG AUTHORS' FAIR

London, United Kingdom Apr 24, 2024 (Issuewire.com) - BriBooks launches the UK edition of the prestigious flagship event, the National Young Authors' Fair. With over 50,000 students from over 1200 top schools, this event gives thousands of young students the opportunity to write and publish their books, in their journey to become young entrepreneur authors. Open for children ages 8-16 years, the event gives children access to the world's largest AI assisted writing platform BriBooks. Along with the AI assistant, the platform also has thousands of illustrations, which makes writing and publishing literally a child's play, apart from being a fun and joyful experience for young children.

This year's event is marked by a special collaboration between BriBooks and the School Library Association UK. With this collaboration, School library leaders will be able to drive the movement of writing and publishing in their respective schools, getting children to fall in love with writing and reading again.

Young authors will win multiple awards including the opportunity for their books to be featured in national and international books festivals including Barnes Children's Literature Festival UK and Brooklyn Book Festival US. Participating schools will also stand to win awards including the prestigious Literary Leadership Award for school leaders and Leadership in Literature Award for English Teachers and Librarians.

Ami Dror, the Founder & CEO of BriBooks said, "The National Young Authors' Fair in the UK has always been special as some of my favourite young authors are from this country. I am hoping to read more amazing books this year and also meet the authors and school leaders later this year"
