Passionate about being a part of the life-changing process of bariatric surgery, Dr. VanderWel makes an effort to get to know his patients and their families. He believes health is improved when a patient is treated as a whole person, not by individual problems.

Committed to furthering the field of minimally invasive surgery, Dr. VanderWel is constantly evaluating ways to improve the patient experience. He was the first provider in the Pacific Northwest to offer Endoscopic Sleeve Gastroplasty (ESG) and is now the busiest and most experienced ESG provider in the western United States. He also instructs ESG training courses and is requested to speak nationally and internationally.

After growing up in Colorado, Dr. VanderWel attained a Degree in Biology from Dordt College in Iowa. He then went on to earn his Medical Degree from Loma Linda University School of Medicine.

Subsequently, he completed his fellowship in minimally invasive and bariatric surgery at Legacy Good Samaritan Hospital in Portland, Oregon.

Board-certified in general surgery, Dr. VanderWel is recognized as a Diplomate of the American Board of Surgery (ABS). The ABS is an independent, non-profit organization located in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, founded for the purpose of certifying surgeons who have met a defined standard of education, training, and knowledge.

Among his professional affiliations, Dr. VanderWel is a Candidate Fellow of the American College of Surgeons and the American Society for Metabolic and Bariatric Surgery.

Bariatric surgery is a medical term for surgical procedures used to manage obesity and obesity-related conditions. Long-term weight loss with bariatric surgery may be achieved through alteration of gut hormones, physical reduction of stomach size, reduction of nutrient absorption, or a combination of these. Bariatric surgeons specialize in the surgical treatment of obesity.

Happily married, Dr. VanderWel and his wife love the Pacific Northwest and all the outdoor adventures it affords. When he is not chasing after his two young children, he enjoys biking, hiking, camping, and photography.
