

Dark deals and other upcoming productions with Impact A and E

Chicago, Illinois Apr 12, 2024 (issuewire.com) - Yesterday's dreams are tomorrow's reality. Impact A and E created by Curtis Van Driesche with nothing but a creative dream and a professional cannon camera is hitting Chicago from its former Oregon headquarters.

The first short film cocaine werewolf was to audience satisfaction with 225 + watch hours. (Watch short film here)

The feature film project Dark Deals encompasses a young man who needs to survive in the world of the dark web and gets involved with the wrong kind of friends.

Synopsis: Gambling on the dark web doesn't pay.

In order to pay rent Chris gets into gambling until he gets word that there's more profit to be made on the dark web. A series of events leads him into a desperate situation where in order to save his friends he must wager more than just money.

The owner with a year of film-creating experience and much more when combined with unprofessional photography and rave-shuffling creativity will be creating movies for a long time.

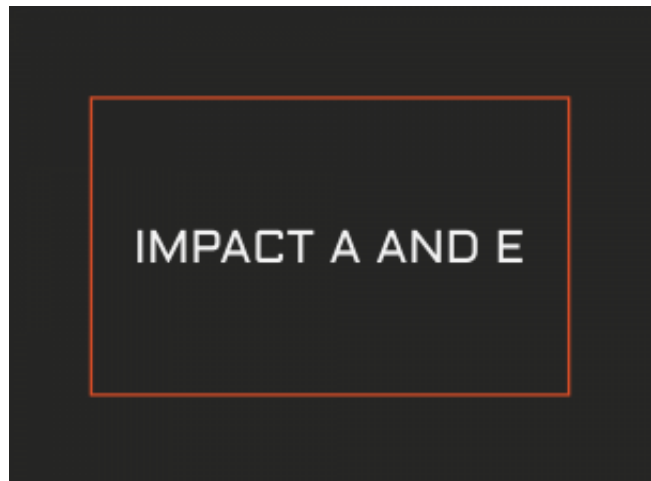

Bringing the vibes to whatever the occasion and a growth-centric mission Impact A and E hopes to create new worlds to get lost in.
