

Elevated Coaching & Consulting Global Expands to Address and Improve Workplace Psychological Safety Worldwide

Boutique Coaching and Consulting Firm Empowers Organizations Globally to Cultivate Healthy Work Environments Through Innovative Programs and Solutions

Arlington, Virginia Apr 4, 2024 (Issuewire.com) - Global change-management company Elevated Coaching & Consulting is setting its sights on further expansion to address skyrocketing incidences of workplace psychological abuse and harm.

Elevated Coaching & Consulting Global specializes in developing inclusive leadership to ensure maximum DEI engagement at micro, macro and company level. The organization is an expert at inclusive problem-solving as well as coaching leaders to develop and enhance emotional intelligence skills to foster more inclusive and psychologically safe workplace cultures.

Kylie van Luyn, Founder of Elevated Coaching & Consulting Global, says that psychological safety is one of the most in-demand aspects of her training and consulting. This is also an important workplace issue being discussed globally with Governments, leaders, and policymakers.

Elevated's goals are to raise awareness, and standards, build unity, and make change happen, including advocating for new employment laws and protections across the USA to recognize workplace psychological safety.

Kylie explains: "There is so much talk about employee health and well-being, but very little about the critical link between workplace psychological safety and employee health and well-being. Research indicates that psychosocial hazards can have a substantial impact on an individual's mental health and behavior. This interconnectedness highlights the importance of fostering psychologically safe work environments."

The Elevated Workplace training program (<https://www.workplacefairness.org/elevated/>) is currently being rolled out across the USA. Kylie explains: "It is a comprehensive course designed with one of our non-profit partners to help organizations and leaders to support teams and leaders develop an in-depth understanding of how to cultivate a psychologically safe workplace to protect workers from psychological abuse and injuries, including mental health conditions."

"We are a purpose and people-driven firm and put people at the heart of everything. We are more than just a coaching and consulting LLC. We have a passion for propelling you toward unparalleled success through elevating business practices and empowering leadership. Our collaborative approach ensures that your unique goals and aspirations are at the heart of our strategy development."

Kylie says "I am delighted by our growth and continued global expansion. You can expect Elevated Coaching & Consulting Global to continue its pursuit of global social impact, empowerment, innovation, and excellence. We are dedicated to expanding our services, staying at the forefront of industry trends, and delivering even more impactful solutions to our clients. Our focus remains on fostering growth, both for our clients and our firm, through strategic initiatives, partnerships, and a commitment to the highest standards of professional practice."
