iComply Investor Services Inc. Forms Strategic Partnership with Qoden to Enhance KYC Processes

Vancouver, British Columbia May 1, 2024 (Issuewire.com) - iComply Investor Services Inc., a leader in compliance technology, is excited to announce a strategic partnership with Qoden, a premier technology company specializing in advanced trading platform solutions. This partnership is centered around leveraging iComply's cutting-edge product, iComplyKYC™, to redefine KYC (Know Your Customer) compliance for organizations worldwide.

Since its inception in 2017 by CEO Matthew Unger, iComply has carved a niche within the compliance sector, championing the cause of secure and compliant digital transactions. The cornerstone of this is iComplyKYC™, a solution that embodies iComply's commitment to "Trust in every transaction." By harnessing the power of artificial intelligence and edge computing, iComplyKYC™ revolutionizes KYC compliance, enabling businesses to meet stringent regulatory requirements with unparalleled efficiency and accuracy.

Qoden, founded in the same year as iComply, offers customizable fintech solutions such as crypto exchanges, investment platforms and digital tokenization. Qoden’s products are known for their modularity, which make integration with in-house systems seamless, and demonstrate high resilience under heavy loads. The partnership with iComply reinforces Qoden's commitment to providing robust and compliant trading solutions that cater to the ever-evolving needs of the digital asset markets.

"Partnering with Qoden aligns perfectly with our goal to set new standards in compliance technology," said Matthew Unger, CEO of iComply Investor Services Inc. "iComplyKYC™ is designed to empower organizations with the tools they need to navigate the complexities of KYC compliance efficiently. Together with Qoden, we are making this a reality for businesses around the world."

Qoden's commitment to incorporating the latest technological advancements into its platforms is evident in this partnership.“This collaboration not only boosts our platform compliance capabilities but also highlights our dedication to fostering a secure, legal and efficient trading environment”, stated Vlad Tikhomirov, CTO at Qoden. "This partnership not only enhances our compliance offerings but also reinforces our commitment to providing secure and comprehensive trading solutions."

For more information about iComply Investor Services Inc. and iComplyKYC™, please visit www.icomplyis.com. To learn more about Qoden and its innovative trading platform solutions, visit https://qoden.com.

About iComply:

iComply Investor Services Inc. has been pioneering compliance technology since 2017 and is headquartered in Vancouver, Canada. Their vision is to pioneer a trusted and secure digital ecosystem that empowers individuals, businesses, and communities, enabling compliant, transparent, and secure transactions worldwide. Learn more: www.icomplyis.com

For Media Enquiries:

Theodora Birch, Media Relations

Email: theo.b@icomplyis.com

Phone: +1 (929) 547-9415

Media Contact

iComply Investor Services

theo.b@icomplyis.com

210-128 W Hastings St

Source : iComply Investor Services

See on IssueWire