Witten, Nordrhein-Westfalen Apr 12, 2024 (IssueWire.com) - We are thrilled to announce that Jörg Krämer has been selected as a finalist in the prestigious Book Excellence Awards for his outstanding work, "Great Pyrenean Mountain Dogs: Patou," in the category of Animals/Pets.

With thousands of entries from across the globe, Krämer's book stood out for its exceptional writing, captivating design, and broad market appeal. "Great Pyrenean Mountain Dogs: Patou" delves into the rich history of these majestic creatures, affectionately known as Patous in France. Krämer chronicles their remarkable journey from centuries-old herding and guarding roles to their brief stint as noble palace companions and their near-extinction due to the disappearance of bears and wolves.

As wolves returned to the landscape, the Great Pyrenean Mountain Dogs reclaimed their original role as steadfast guardians, a testament to their resilience and adaptability. Today, thanks to dedicated breeders like Marion and Stefan Ruhl, who have played a pivotal role in their preservation, these gentle giants are cherished companions worldwide, even finding their way from the Pyrenees to unexpected places like the Ruhr district.

Jörg Krämer, an esteemed writer and devoted dog enthusiast, brings his profound knowledge and passion for canine history to life in "Great Pyrenean Mountain Dogs: Patous." His expertise and love for these remarkable animals shine through as he offers invaluable insights into their characteristics and provides expert advice on their care and training.

"I am deeply honored to be recognized as a finalist in the Book Excellence Awards," said Krämer. "The Great Pyrenean Mountain Dogs hold a special place in my heart, and I am thrilled to share their captivating story with readers around the world."

The Book Excellence Awards celebrate literary excellence in various genres, recognizing authors who demonstrate exceptional talent and creativity. Krämer's nomination is a testament to his dedication to crafting a compelling narrative that resonates with readers of all ages.
