

PowerFluence Announces Strategic Relationship with TuTeck Technologies

Fairfield, Connecticut May 5, 2024 (Issuewire.com) - PowerFluence LLC, a New Jersey based Salesforce software services company, announced today a strategic partnership with TuTeck Technologies, a London based provider of digital transformation, cloud, data, and AI services.

"We are very excited about this new alliance," said Dileep Srinivasan, CEO and Founding Partner of PowerFluence. "Our Salesforce and Mulesoft capabilities dovetail nicely into their data, digital and AI areas of expertise."

TuTeck has developed a broad portfolio of digital services designed to meet the aggressive demands of today's marketplace. They will be partnering with PowerFluence to leverage their digital engineering and data analytics skills along with PowerFluence's Salesforce expertise to bring even greater depth of capabilities to their customer base.

"Our cutting-edge data analytics and digital engineering services, combined with PowerFluence's expertise in Salesforce and Mulesoft, will elevate customer experience and guarantee heightened levels of customer success," said Samantak Panda, Founder, CEO, TuTeck Technologies. "The strategic collaboration between TuTeck and PowerFluence will expand our reach, allowing us to deliver our offerings to the customers from a more diverse range of regions, including the USA, UK & Europe, and APAC."

"I am very excited to be joining up with PowerFluence," said Soumya Dasgupta, SVP, TuTeck. "Our digital engineering and data analytics service portfolio is a great match with PowerFluence's Salesforce capabilities. I foresee a lot of new opportunity within our mutual client base."

"Customers are anxious about the challenges in their Data journey and are looking for broad capabilities in this space without the baggage of a large outsourcing firm," said Peter Grambs, President, PowerFluence. "TuTeck has strong and diversified data-related consulting capabilities to help enterprises become successful in their data journey. Our combined TuTeck and PowerFluence offering solves this problem and brings an established track record of success to the table."
