

Upgrade your productivity with the Raise 2, Dygma's new wireless ergonomic keyboard

This keyboard is a powerful tool that improves comfort and productivity without forgetting a cool-looking design. Specially thought for coders, gamers, designers, typists, and much more. You can already benefit from the pre-sale saving up to 110$

Comunidad Valenciana, Spain Apr 11, 2024 (Issuewire.com) - Recently announced, you can already pre-reserve the new Dygma keyboard at the best possible price. The Raise 2 is a top-quality wireless mechanical keyboard that can be split into two halves and raised up to 60° thanks to its built-in tenting.

Its staggered layout allows the user to divide the keyboard into two halves that can be easily re-joined, facilitating the transition from a conventional keyboard. This feature helps to maintain a healthier and ergonomic posture and to prevent the user from suffering ailments like carpal tunnel syndrome.

Following the company's focus on ergonomics, the Raise 2 can be purchased with built-in tenting. Tenting and tilting are basics in the ergonomic design, helping the hands to rest in their natural position. This makes the Raise 2 a perfect tool for extended typing, editing, or gaming sessions.

Apart from the fact that the keyboard is fully programmable, allowing the user to remap any key, it incorporates an expansion slot in which the user will be able to connect powerful add-ons like a trackball or additional keys. All these customization possibilities are complemented by per-key backlighting and the exclusive RGBW underglow.

The Dygma Raise 2 can already be pre-reserved on the official website. The company offers special prices during the pre-sale campaign, which will finish on April 25. Delivery of the final product will be this October.

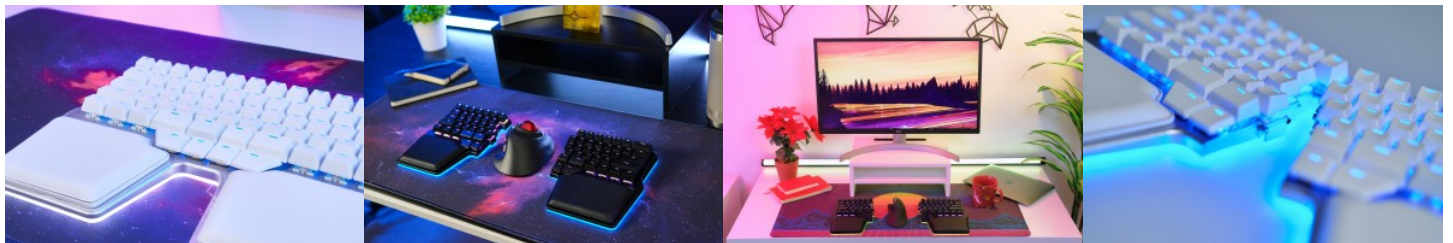

About Dygma

Dygma was founded in 2017 in Valencia, Spain, by Luis “Deilor” Sevilla, an esports coach and tech enthusiast. His main goal was to create a paradigm shift in the industry by designing products that would benefit the health of users.

Dygma aims to improve people’s lives through innovation, creating solutions for better performance, health, and comfort. They are a community-centered, honest, and open company with undeniably high standards. They build high-quality products with their customers constantly in mind.

Since 2017, Dygma has developed two products, the Raise and the Defy. They have now upgraded the Raise and created a new version, the Raise 2, which will incorporate their learnings and the feedback from their users.
