

11-Year-Old Noelle Gush Inspires Community Service Through "Paws in Action"

Sherwood, Oregon May 2, 2024 (IssueWire.com) - 11-Year-Old Noelle Gush Inspires Community Service Through "Paws in Action"

Noelle Gush, an inspiring 11-year-old from Sherwood, Oregon, is leading a movement to encourage animal lovers to get involved in their communities through her platform, "Paws in Action." Noelle, who holds the title of National Little Miss for the International United Miss Organization, is setting a powerful example by volunteering weekly at Cat Alliance Team Sanctuary, where she cares for cats awaiting adoption. With "Paws in Action,"

Noelle motivates others to volunteer at their local pet shelters and rescues, showing that age is not a barrier to making a difference. Her mission is to spread the message of kindness, compassion, and inclusivity by encouraging people to be kind to each other. Noelle wants to show all those around her that even if you're young, you can still be involved and help your community. As the National Little Miss for the International United Miss Organization, Noelle's commitment to community service extends beyond her work with animal shelters. She actively participates in various community events, including volunteering at foster kids' events, performing dances for people in assisted living facilities, and serving as a "Princess for a Day."

Her dedication to spreading kindness and compassion is evident in everything she does.

Noelle is an elementary school student, where she serves as an Eagle Ambassador, a leadership program designed to help younger students. She is also a talented dancer with Showstoppers through Sherwood Dance Academy as well as a cheerleader through Sherwood Youth Cheer.

In the future, Noelle hopes to become a veterinarian and travel to poverty-stricken countries to provide care for animals in need. Her passion for animals and her desire to make a positive impact in her community have made her a role model for other young people.

About International United Miss Organization International United Miss is a prestigious pageant system that celebrates young women's achievements, leadership, and community involvement. Through its various divisions, International United Miss provides a platform for contestants to showcase their talents, intelligence, and philanthropic efforts, fostering personal growth and empowerment. The organization is dedicated to helping young women build confidence, develop leadership skills, and create a lasting impact in their communities through charitable work and advocacy.

For media inquiries or interview requests, please contact:

Sydney Brett
iumpublicrelations@gmail.com

<https://www.internationalunitedmiss.com/national-little-miss>

Media Contact

International United Miss Pageant

iumpublicrelations@gmail.com

Source : International United Miss

See on IssueWire