Through entrepreneurial spirit and user-friendly technological peripherals, BYC has forged robust partnerships with apparel manufacturers and printing suppliers, underscoring its commitment to innovation and growth. "We are passionate about revolutionizing the apparel printing experience," stated a spokesperson from BYC. "Our focus on technology and strategic partnerships positions us at the forefront of industry innovation."

A key milestone in BYC's journey is the development of a patented customized print-on-demand vending machine (US PATENT 63299922).
