FAQs :

- What qualifies as a dental emergency?
 - Dental emergencies encompass a range of situations, including severe toothaches, knocked-out teeth, broken dental restorations, and trauma to the mouth or jaw. Any dental issue that causes significant pain, bleeding, or swelling should be treated as a dental emergency.
- How soon should I seek treatment for a dental emergency?
 - It is crucial to seek treatment for a dental emergency as soon as possible to prevent further complications and alleviate discomfort. Contact Aurora Smiles immediately if you experience a dental emergency, and our team will provide prompt assistance.
- Do I need to make an appointment for emergency dental care?
 - While appointments are recommended for routine dental visits, Aurora Smiles understands the urgent nature of dental emergencies and accommodates walk-in patients whenever possible. However, contacting our office beforehand can help us better prepare for your arrival and expedite the treatment process.

- What should I do if I knock out a tooth?
- If you knock out a tooth, it is essential to act quickly and follow the appropriate steps to increase the chances of saving the tooth. Rinse the tooth gently with water, being careful not to remove any attached tissue. Place the tooth back into its socket if possible, or store it in milk or saliva until you can see an emergency dentist.
- Is emergency dental care covered by insurance?
- Many dental insurance plans provide coverage for emergency dental care services. However, coverage may vary depending on the specific terms of your insurance policy. Contact your insurance provider to inquire about your coverage options for emergency dental treatment.
