public speaking and leadership skills through the strategic use of humor. This program aims to enhance members' communication abilities, foster deeper connections, and make learning more impactful and enjoyable.

"We believe that humor is a powerful tool for engagement," said Silvia Swigert, President of Humor Masters Toastmasters Club. "By incorporating humor into our speeches and leadership practices, we capture our audience's attention and make our messages more memorable and effective."

The "Engage with Humor" initiative will be integrated into all aspects of the club's activities, including speeches, table topics, and specialized humor workshops. The club's ethos, "Engage with Humor," underscores their commitment to infusing every meeting with humor that enlightens, entertains, and educates.

What better way to conquer your fear of public speaking than by learning and having fun at the same time?
