

Charles Edward Stewart, MD, EMDM, MPH: Leading the Way in Wound Care Expertise

Ascension St. John Physician Stands Out for His Specialized Knowledge in Wound Management

New York City, New York Jun 20, 2024 (IssueWire.com) - A distinguished wound care physician specializing in disaster medicine, emergency medicine, and wound management, Dr. Stewart is affiliated with Ascension St. John's in Tulsa, Oklahoma. With a wealth of experience and accolades in the medical field, he has become a trusted expert in his field.

With an impressive educational background, he holds a Master's in Public Health from Tulane University, an European Master in Disaster Medicine, and completed a residency in emergency medicine at UPMC Medical Education and partially completed a surgery residency at Letterman Army Medical Center.

Graduating from the University of Pittsburgh School of Medicine, Dr. Stewart is also certified in wound management by the American Board of Wound Management as a CWSP®. The CWSP® certification is a prestigious acknowledgment of Dr. Stewart's expertise and dedication to wound care. This credential not only showcases his commitment to high standards in the field but also signifies his specialized knowledge that sets him apart from his peers.

Professionally, he is an active member of the American Academy of Emergency Medicine and the American Academy of Wound Management. His involvement in these esteemed groups further solidifies his standing as a leader in wound care and emergency medicine.

When asked about the key to his success, Dr. Stewart attributes it to multiple factors, including being the first graduate of the Military Academy to be sent directly to medical school, his unwavering drive, and his exceptional problem-solving abilities.
